Mission and Objectives

Newbeg Integrated Services wants to be the preferred supplier of offshore positioning and survey services in the maritime and offshore industry in the West African Region.

Our aim is to provide our clients with specific solutions, which create added value to them, while at the same time providing our shareholders with higher profits and a good share value.

The quality, health, safety and security of our company is of the utmost importance and Newbeg Integrated Services recognises that we have a duty to provide a secure working environment in order to achieve our goal of ZERO injuries to personnel, the protection of the environment and no damage to property.

Our Services

- Staff Support & Management
- Navigation and Position Services
- Construction Support Services
- Debris Clearance Survey
- Geophysical Hydrography Survey

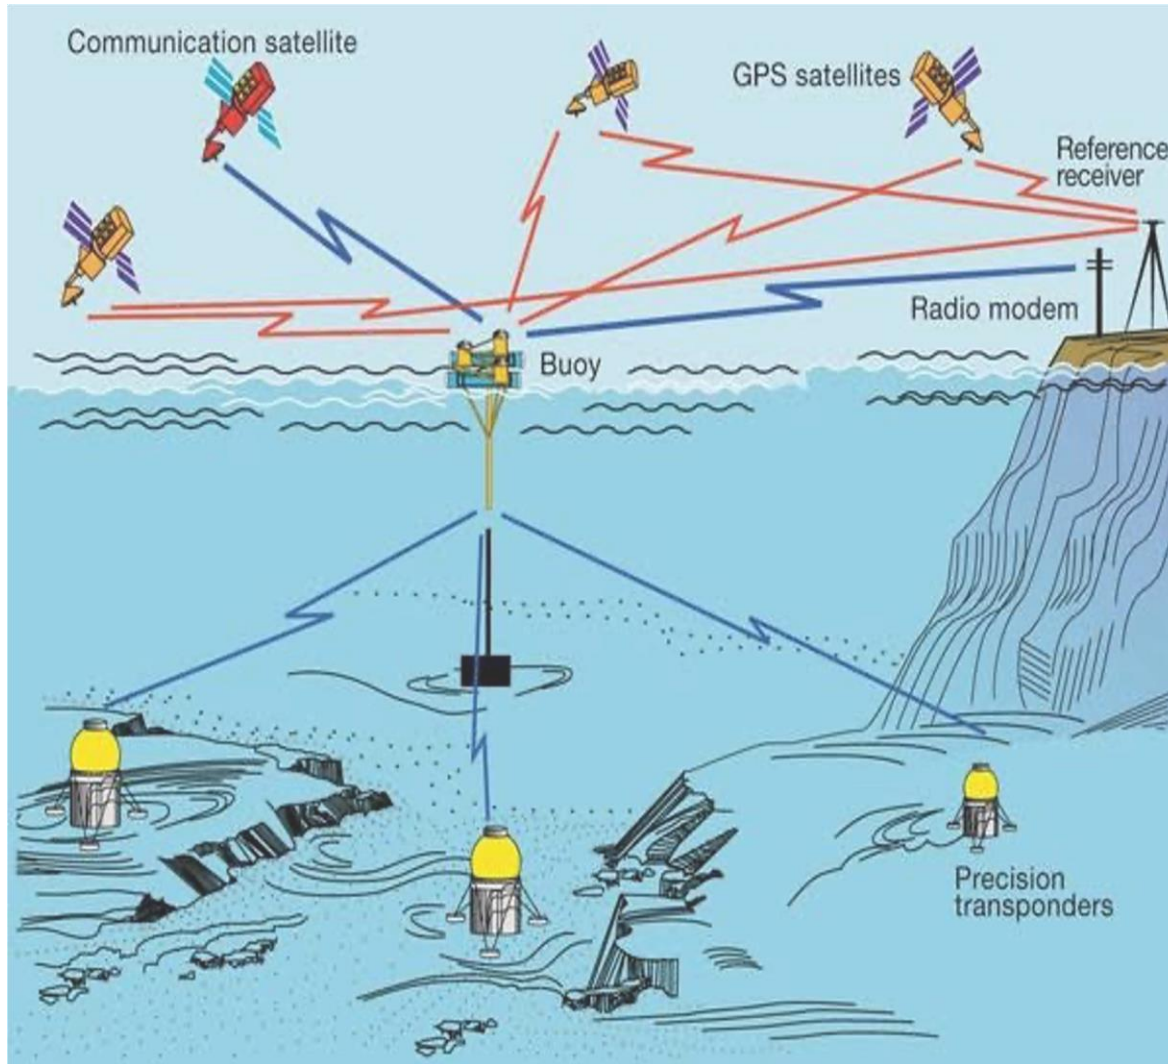

Staff Support and Management

Newbeg Integrated Services is a supplier of personnel to the offshore survey market. We can supply one person or a whole team.

With our teams of surveyors, survey engineers, survey technicians, geophysicists, data processors and logistics personnels, we handle the survey division of our clients in its entirety; an out of house team tailored to meet you every need from the premobilization of a project to the successful commissioning.

Navigation and Positioning Services

Positioning and Navigation services support clients who need to position Mobile Offshore Drilling Platforms, both Jack-ups and Semi-sub, with Sub-meter accuracy.

Our state-of-the-art modern DGNSS systems supported by international partners, are proven to be industry best standard and are utilised all over the globe.

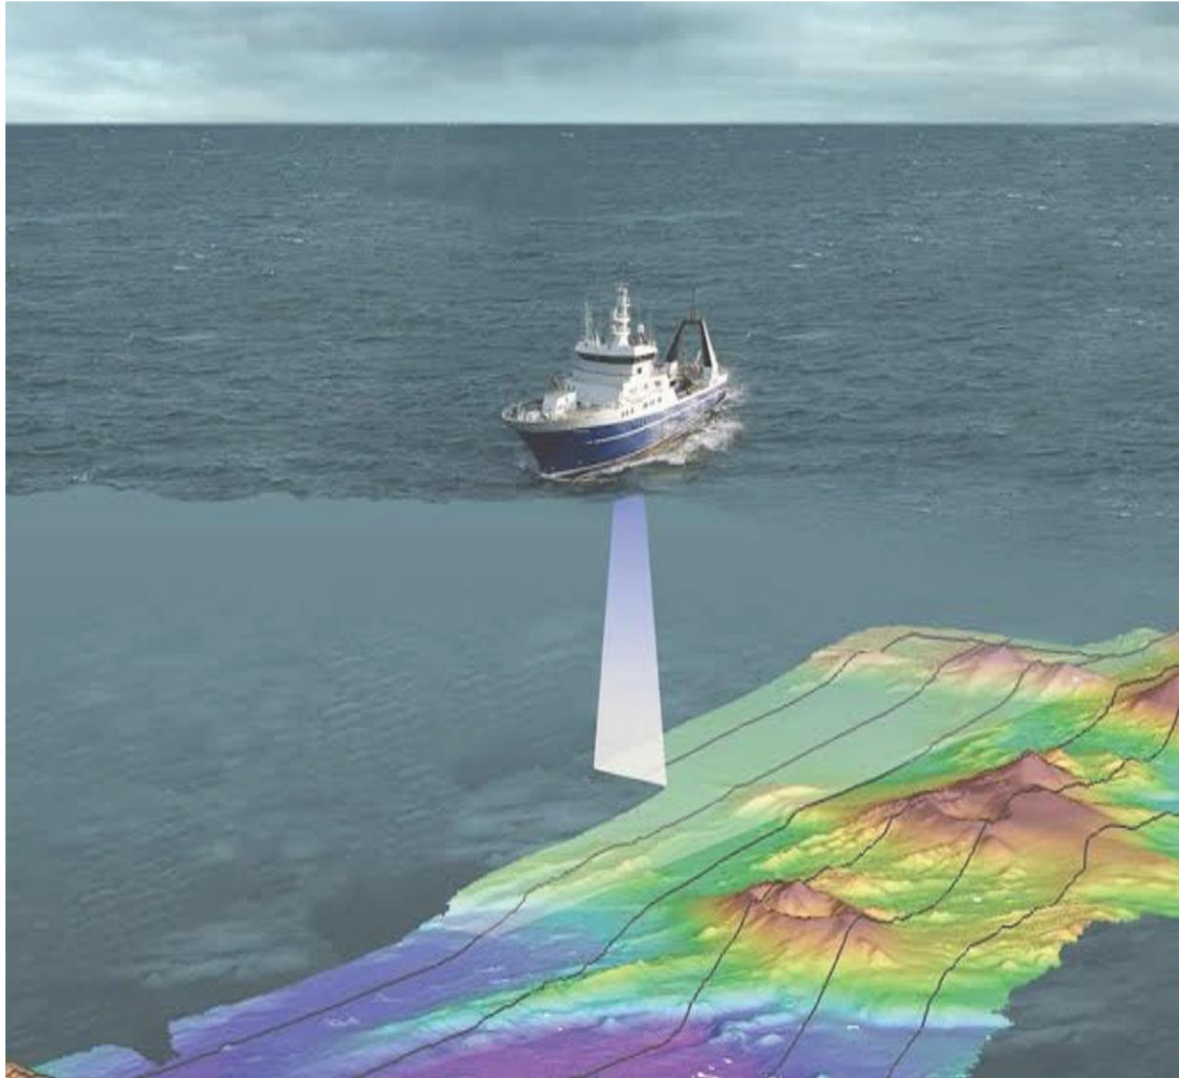

Construction Support services

Positioning and Navigation of Construction barges needing anchor monitoring, flexible umbilical pipeline layback positioning and Mattress installation support.

Carrying out Pre-routes and As-Laid services are also critical criteria for a successful pipeline and subsea infrastructure campaign.

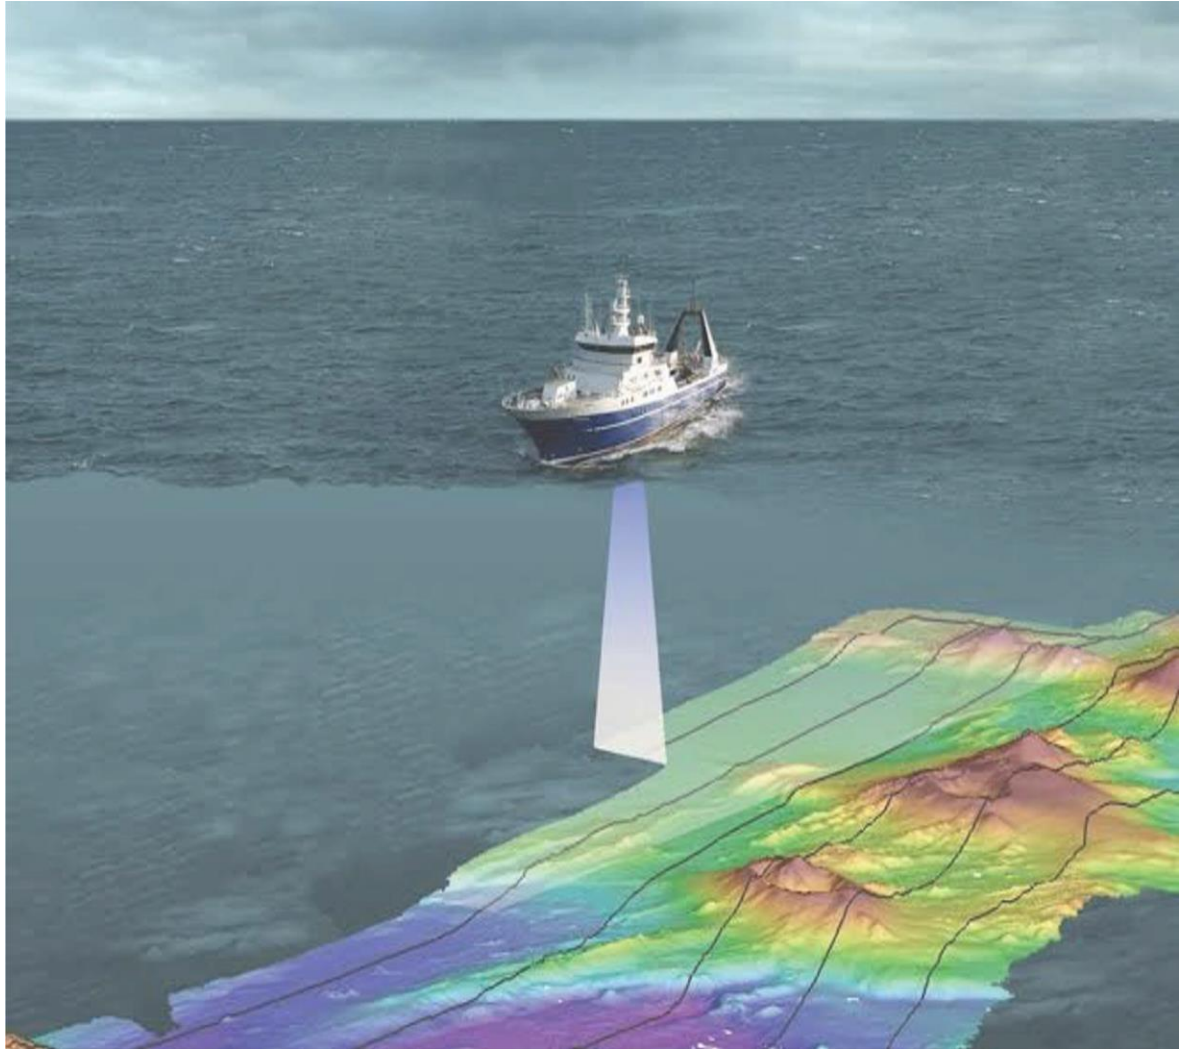

Debris Clearance Survey

Using subsea scanning sonar equipment and positioning to detect seabed surface debris and possible prior spud-can penetration sites can reduce the risk of damage to Jack-up MODU legs.

This can save expensive time in problems with positioning these Jack-ups next to existing platforms and installations.

Geophysical Hydrography Survey

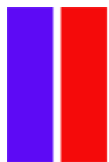

Creating detailed bathymetric charts of drilling and construction locations is essential for the design of infrastructure and the carrying out of offshore operations.

Using Side Scan Sonars, Sub-Bottom Profiles and Magnetometers, we can deliver quality data of the seabed surface and shallow subsurface that can be used to effectively in engineering and project planning.

Conclusion

Newbeg Integrated keys to long-term business and profitability are as follows:

- Differentiate our services to our niche clients so that they realize we are better able to serve their needs than other companies.
- Keep close contact with clients and establish a well-functioning long-term relationship with them to generate repeat business and create a top notch reputation.
- Establish a comprehensive service experience for our clients that includes consultation, product/client search, purchasing contracts, warehousing, shipping, delivery, and follow up service analysis.
